

Salesforce Technical Trainer

About PepUp Tech

PepUp Tech was founded in 2016 to help underrepresented groups gain access to careers in the tech industry through our Salesforce Virtual Academy. While the tech career ecosystem is one of the fastest growing industries in the United States it is also the least diverse. By running programs that give bright, motivated, underserved students the skills, mentors, and confidence needed to begin careers in tech, PepUp Tech has developed a scalable model of workforce development that will benefit thousands of young people and the tech industry as a whole.
